display inline-block combined with float left, where the computed display becomes block regardless of the declared inline-block value

